Methods of Evaluation

- Essay Examinations
  - Example: 1. List and describe the O.O.D.A. loop tactical decision-making process. 2. List and discuss the early warning signs of a stalker situation. 3. List and discuss 3 strategies for creating a safer parking lot environment. 4. List and discuss the cycle of violence.
- Skill Demonstrations
  - Example: 1. Student will demonstrate the ability to physically respond correctly to various common attack situations utilizing upper and lower body strikes, proper stance and footwork, release techniques utilizing leverage principles, body mechanics, and blocking maneuvers. Tactically, student will demonstrate the ability to compare and contrast scenario-based self-defense situations and apply the O.O.D.A. loop tactical decision-making process in order to demonstrate proficiency in distinguishing between practical and impractical strategies for self-defense.

Methods of Instruction

- Activity
- Lecture/Discussion

Activity:

1. Instructor will facilitate a small group project using several case studies on safety in the areas of the home, workplace, school, online environment, street, car, travel and recreational activities. Each group will draw conclusions and compare with the other group's results.
2. Instructor will demonstrate and then test students on their skills using the proper mechanics of the following skills: Block; Hand and Elbow strikes; Foot and Knee strikes.

Lecture:

1. Instructor will facilitate a discussion about strategies and tactics to identify situational factors that either improved or worsened the situation for the survivor of a violent attack.

Typical Out of Class Assignments Reading Assignments

1. Students will read an assigned chapter on intimate partner violence in the victimology textbook and be prepared to discuss in class the cycle of violence and the precursors to domestic violence based on the offender typology. 2. Students will read and assigned chapter on stalking in the victimology text book and be prepared to discuss the warning signs of a potential stalking situation. Exit strategies and whether or not police intervention is needed will be discussed.

Writing, Problem Solving or Performance

1. Student will outline, in writing, the basic steps for dealing with a potentially violent situation as demonstrated by the O.O.D.A. loop (observe, orientation, decide, act). 2. Students will watch a video recounting the events of physical assault and summarize the main points on how to properly respond to a similar situation. They will use the strategies and tactics taught in the course to identify situational factors that either improved or worsened the situation for the survivor.

Other (Term projects, research papers, portfolios, etc.)

1. Students will submit a safety plan for improving their personal safety in the areas of their home, workplace, school, online environment, street, car, travel and recreational activities.
